

Kevin Nuttall

STRATEGY FACILITATOR \ \ COLLABORATION DESIGNER \ \ TRAINER \ \ INNOVATOR

Kevin is an expert in challenging people and groups to think, then turning those ideas into valuable action and incredible results.

His philosophy is that people understand what needs to happen in order to make quantum leaps in performance. He designs and facilitates the process to allow this collective knowledge to be shared and implemented.

Kevin's workshops have helped organisations turn the corner, assisted personnel in adapting to change, provided in depth strategies for moving forward, and focused executives on developing and realising their strategic plans.

He is an internationally respected Facilitator with over 20 years experience in working with senior management teams to develop and implement organisational strategies.

His consultancy, Waterfield has carried out contracts in Europe, Africa, Asia, Australia and New Zealand.

His list of clients include many Government entities, Top 200 companies and organisations in FMCG, Property, Recruitment, Finance, Banking firms and Marketing.
